Dedicated to the strength, hope and courage of Breast Cancer Survivors, Co-Survivors and any loved one we want to remember or honor for any reason. Jack Loftus & Penny Durham developed the concept of this garden to honor their mothers who lost their battles with breast cancer, Mary Virginia Willis Loftus (1918-1960) and Fabol Powell Durham (1917-2005). This public garden provides a serene place of reflection and serves as a reminder of the importance of proactive breast health and care, annual mammograms and early detection of cancer of any kind.

White blossomed Natchez Crepe Myrtles encircle pink George Tabor Azaleas, which surround pink Eleanor Tabor Indian Hawthorn. Autumn Twist Encore Azaleas, white with pink stripes, stand next to Liriope Aztec Grass. Pink hued Muhly Grass surrounds the majestic pink ribbon granite tribute. Mini Mondo Grass is the groundcover. Pink Daylilies are tucked in the corners of the perennial beds, showcasing seasonal color. Dianthus, Pink Mexican Heather, Pink Mexican Petunia and dwarf Dazzle Me Pink Crapemyrtles line these beds. Elaborate wrought iron benches provide a place to pause and read the moving and inspirational messages for loved ones crafted in limestone and pink granite.
